Paul (Mary, Gary),

The pr paganda promoting the lma "Oswald:Self Portrait" TV crap, may be interesting in the lies it tells, what has to be at best deliberate deception, like the claim it contains "rare pre-crime footage of Oswald's life starting when he was 16 years old and tracing his actions up to the assassination of Oswald".

Some of this doesn't exist and none of it is in any reasonable sense "rare".

= Then, "The film features rare footage to document Oswald's life-long addiction to do Marxist propaganda and philosophy." I doubt this can be any more than the WWII, possibly also the WWI film. This is anything but "rare", except in the misinterpretation, having been well exposed on contemporaneous and assassination-time TV.

The things Butler said or is said to have said, and some of the quotation may not be accurate, at the time of the assassination, assume increasing interest to me. I've let you know what I have. If you have or get anything further, I'd like to hear of it.

I may not have mentioned this earlier, if I did not earlier have a copy (as I think I did), but there is an article in New Orleans magazine, the year not given on the two pages on which it appears, by a guy named Sheehan. The issue is dated only January on these pages. It may well be January 1964. Anyway, it has some interesting errors in it and some contradictions or other things on it which Butler is quoted.

One of the more interesting trivia is that Oswald wrote Butler's name and address, perhaps phone, in his notebook. I do not recall this from it. If my recollection is correct, it may explain how other entries got there. This story also has an Oswald picture credited to Matt Herron. I've written to ask for copies of all he took in Dallas. I do not expect them.

Sincerely,
